

Oilseeds: World Markets and Trade

Chinese Peanut Exports Hit Record High

World peanut exports are expected to reach 1.48 million tons in 2002/03, with China accounting for nearly 40 percent of this trade. Chinese peanut exports are forecast to reach 600,000 tons this year, up from 525,000 tons exported in 2001/02. The world's other leading peanut exporters are the United States (exports of 234,000 tons), Vietnam (155,000 tons), Argentina (135,000 tons) and India (70,000 tons). An expected 3 percent increase in the size of China's peanut crop in 2002/03 (14.9 million tons – almost half of world production) is expected to keep China as the world's dominate peanut exporter. Other factors that helped boost China's trade are the forecast decline in the production and export of peanuts in the United States and Argentina. The leading export markets for Chinese peanuts are in the EU, Russia and Asia, particularly Japan.

Situation and Outlook

Global oilseed exports for 2002/03 are projected at a record 74.8 million tons, up 491,000 tons over last month's estimate mainly due to a 454,000-ton increase in soybean exports. Global trade of protein meal is estimated at 63.3 million tons, 426,000 tons higher than last month due to increases in exports of rapeseed meal, sunflowerseed meal, and fishmeal. Vegetable oil exports remained constant this month at 38.9 million tons.

The changes to trade in the soy complex are a result of refined export projections for all three major soybean exporters. Projections for both Brazil's and Argentina's exports are reduced this month a combined 500,000 tons. Still, total 2002/03 soybean exports from the two South American giants is projected at a combined 30 million tons, nearly 3 million tons higher than projected U.S. soybean exports. The U.S. soybean export projection of 27.1 million tons is 952,000 tons higher than last month's projection, although still lower than last year's record exports of 28.9 million tons. The U.S. export figure was raised this month for two reasons: 1) to adjust for discrepancies between data collected by the Federal Grain Inspection Service and the U.S. Bureau of the Census, and 2) to reflect continued strong exports to China. With the prime U.S. shipping season coming to a close, the U.S. Export Sales Report accounts for over 7 million tons of U.S. soybeans exported to China. To reflect this record volume of exports and in anticipation of similar record volumes from Brazil and Argentina, China's soybean import projection was raised this month to 16.5 million tons. China's previous soybean import record volume was 13.2 million tons, achieved in 2000/01.

Other changes this month include a 160,000-ton decrease in Poland's projected rapeseed exports and a 70,000-ton increase in the country's rapeseed meal exports, due to increased domestic crushing. Increases in exports of Ukrainian sunflowerseed meal and sunflowerseed oil, 100,000 tons and 60,000 tons respectively, are due to improved extraction rates and lower domestic consumption. Finally, a 150,000-ton increase in Peru's fishmeal exports is offset by an increase in China's fishmeal imports. There were no major changes to the palm oil complex this month.

Notes on World Supply/Demand Tables

- 1) Trade, crush, consumption, and stocks data are aggregated using individual marketing years with the exception of Argentina and Brazil. These two countries are converted to an October-September basis. Marketing years for countries in the Northern Hemisphere begin in the first year shown. Those in the Southern Hemisphere begin in the second year.
- 2) World imports and exports will not balance. This is due to differences in marketing years and time lags between exportation and importation.
- 3) Stocks data are not estimated for all countries.
- 4) Price averages are dollars per bushel for soybeans, dollars per short ton for soybean meal and cents per pound for soybean oil.

Regional area and county designations in the soybean, soybean meal, and soybean oil supply, distribution, and trade tables are as follows:
